Notes for Contributors

JSL, as a rule, only publishes original and unpublished texts. JSL also publishes translations of literary and critical texts provided the contributor has obtained permission from the copyright holders of the original texts.

All contributions must be submitted to the Editor, JSL by email. The emails must be sent to e-mail: jsl@jnu.ac.in

Style Sheet

- ◆ Submissions must be word documents, Times New Roman, 12 point. They should be sent as email attachment to the editor.
- ◆ Every contribution should have the following information below the title of the paper: (i) the name(s) of the authors, and the affiliation(s) of the author(s).
- ◆ Please avoid hyphenating words at the end of lines.
“Please follow the latest edition of MLA Handbook for style.”

JSL is the annual journal of the School of Language, Literature & Culture Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University.

JSL is proud to provide a peer-reviewed interdisciplinary forum for discussion of all issues related to language, literature, and other aspects of culture. Submissions are accepted throughout the year. All submissions undergo blind peer-review. The peer-review process takes time but we will try to get back to you within three months.

JSL follows the same well-established ethical practices as all other reputed journals. It has zero tolerance for plagiarism and expects all contributors to declare that the papers are completely original and not published in part elsewhere. Permission for all copyrighted material – photographs, extracts, and articles (even if they are by the author) published elsewhere earlier, illustrations, quotations of more than 400 words, more than 40 lines of poetry, graphs, tables, maps, web material – must be obtained from original copyright holders in writing prior to the submission of the manuscript to us. The author should provide all necessary documentation (letters of permissions: printed copies or e-mails) to the publisher. Mere attribution to the copyright holder will not suffice.
